

THE ACCIDENT WAS UNAVOIDABLE.

IS THE VERDICT?

A TRUCKING INDUSTRY MOCK TRIAL

Presented by Chartwell Law

A driver had seconds to react.

A jury will have hours to examine every decision.

THE CASE

A professional truck driver is traveling down the interstate at night when a pedestrian unexpectedly appears in his lane.

The driver is attentive, within the speed limit and following his training - but a collision occurs. Now, the plaintiff's expert argues that the crash could have been avoided at a slower speed.

Watch the case unfold and see how favorable facts can look very different in the courtroom.
