US DOT - HAZARDOUS MATERIALS REGULATIONS

GLENN GOODE, SERGEANT, IOWA STATE PATROL

Over 1.2 million hazardous materials shipments take place every day in the United States. 63% of those shipments take place by highway, which affects every motorist on the road. Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations outlines the requirements necessary to ensure those hazardous shipments arrive at their destination in a safe and proper manner. This course is designed to provide an overview of the US DOT Hazardous Materials Regulations with an emphasis on hazardous materials registration, shipping papers, emergency response information, markings, labels, placards, and safe loading requirements, to ensure everyone is doing their part in effecting safety on our roadways.

KEY DISCUSSION POINTS

- » Shipping Papers
- » Placards
- » Labels
- » Markings
- » Emergency Response Information

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Sgt. Glenn Goode currently leads the Iowa State Patrol-Commercial Motor Vehicle Unit's hazardous materials program, a position that he has held since July of 2023.
